AYER'S Sarsaparilla

cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, General Debility, Catarrh, and all disorders caused by a thin and impoverished, or corrupted, condition of the blood; expelling the blood-poisons from the system, enriching and renewing the blood, and restoring its vitalizing power.

During a long period of unparalleled usefulness, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has proven its perfect adaptation to the cure of all diseases originating in poor blood and a weakened vitality. It is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla and other blood-purifying roots, combined with Iodide of Potassium and Iron, and is the safest, most reliable, and most economical blood-purifier and blood-food that can be used.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

"AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has cured me of the Inflammatory Rheumatism, with which I have suffered for many years." W. H. MOORE, Durham, Ia., March 2, 1882.

"Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. I have not been troubled with the Rheumatism since. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public." E. F. HARRIS, River St., Buckland, Mass., May 13, 1882.

"Last March I was so weak from general debility that I could not walk without help. Following the advice of a friend, I commenced taking AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and before I had used three bottles I felt as well as I ever did in my life. I have been at work now for two months, and think your SARSAPARILLA the greatest blood medicine in the world." JAMES MAYNARD, 520 West 42d St., New York, July 19, 1882.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

Curing of Seed Leaf Tobacco.

The conflicting opinions that exist on the subject of curing tobacco among farmers, says the Miamisburg Bulletin, is evidence that the proper method of curing seed leaf tobacco and the current modes of managing sheds in regard to ventilation while tobacco is being cured, are not generally known. It is not usual to find tobacco growers of wide experience who virtually disagree with regard to the manner in which a tobacco barn should be ventilated during the progress of curing tobacco.

It is known, however, that in a great measure the quality of the cured leaf depends upon the manner in which it is cured; hence the subject is an important one and deserves the closest attention from our tobacco growers.

It is the general belief that rapid drying tends to produce light colors, and the reverse dark colors; but it is difficult to so govern the process that the curing shall be slow and gradual and yet escape the dreaded "pole sweat." This fact may be found to be usually the case by hanging a plant of tobacco in a damp cellar and one of a corresponding size and age in a dry loft, where the one will cure very slowly and the other very rapidly.

When the plants have been cured, the leaves upon examination, will show a marked difference, caused by the time required in the curing. Our experiments of this kind have resulted in favor of slow curing, as in such cases the leaf has been inevitably dark in color and fine and tough in texture, while very rapid drying makes a leaf light and uneven in color and harsh and brittle.

Undoubtedly the character of weather, while tobacco is growing and curing, has much to do with its quality when cured. Experienced tobacco growers have in mind certain seasons when the entire crop of tobacco grown in certain localities cured of bad quality, and they have also known the reverse to be the case. In other seasons there has been a general complaint of damage to crops from "pole sweat," caused by a term of weather favorable in producing the difficulty.

As it is pretty certain that the weather has very much to do with the quality of curing, artificial means might be invented to regulate the atmosphere so as to avoid the undesirable result now so common. For instance if it could be found (as it undoubtedly could) that, at a certain stage of the thermometer and barometer, "pole sweat" in tobacco begins, the difficulty might be easily avoided by providing artificial ventilation through the curing barn. Or, if it could be ascertained that, at a certain temperature and stage of the barometer, bad colors of leaf were being produced perhaps by too rapid drying, a means could be adopted to confine the air in the curing barn, and so regulate it that the difficulty would cease. These are but theories, it is true, but we truly believe that the highest skill in this department of the tobacco business has not as yet been reached. Our growers should aim to improve their crops, not only by careful cultivation, but also by proper care in curing. A little inventive genius applied to this part of the work might reveal valuable truths and promote the welfare of growers in general.

Mrs. B. Calvert, of near Palmyra, Mo., was drowned while attempting to cross North river on horseback.

A resolution was introduced in the Ohio Legislature to provide for the calling of a Constitutional Convention.

Strange's snuff mill, at Dutch Kills and Maspeth, Long Island, were seized and destroyed by revenue officers.

The Milwaukee grand jury find occasion for censure but not for indictment, of the Newhall House proprietors.

At New Haven, Conn., Jas. M. Portland, convicted of theft, and who voted while his dissabilities were existing, was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment.

Failures at School.

A boy named William Elner died not long since in New York under circumstances of terrible significance to every parent. He had passed into the grammar school in the autumn or winter, and was ambitious to reach a high grade in the next June examinations, in order that his portrait might appear in a certain school journal.

He studied out of school late into the night, giving himself but two hours in the day for recreation. As the examinations approached, the nervous strain upon him became more exhausting, until one day he sank down at his desk, and was carried home to die with cerebro-spinal meningitis.

During his delirium he recited his lessons unceasingly, or scribbled problems on his pillow. The strain must have been terrible, as he was not a weak or sickly boy, which was proved by the fact that he lingered for weeks in the grasp of a disease which often proves fatal in a few days.

In the same week in which this boy died, a young girl in a New York grammar school, failing to pass in her examinations, and made insane by her mortification and disappointment, threw herself into the North River.

Now the dull observer must see that a system of education which produces such destructive effects upon the immature brains of children, is faulty. The object of education is to strengthen the mental faculties, not to cripple them by loading them with burdens which they cannot carry.

Instead of this, the purpose too often seems to be to force in the briefest time the greatest amount of undigested facts into the pupil's mind, that he make a brilliant show at examination. By this course dull boys are urged into a course of study possible only to exceptionally clever boys. Unfortunately, the majority of boys are not exceptionally clever, and the boys who are dull at their books should be considered, for they may have other capabilities which will be quite as useful in the world as those of their more scholarly fellows.

It is the duty of every parent to watch and control the training of his child. If he has a quick brain and strong ambition, like this poor boy, Elner, let him be taught at home that there are higher and broader aims before him than class-honors, or the publication of his portrait in a school paper.

Accurate knowledge, sound physical health, a cheerful temperament, and a clear, calm, reasonable mind, should be the real objects of youthful training, and any feverish competition or petty prizes which destroy these should be avoided.

If a boy is naturally slow, and cannot keep pace with his fellows, let him take heart; learn what he can; learn that thoroughly; and go forward toward the manhood that awaits him. Out in the big world where he is to play his part it matters little whether his school average was two or ten. If he is truthful and honest; if what he has learned he has well digested, and he has shown that he is not a sluggard if he is slow; his work is ready and waiting for him there, and the very qualities of slowness and thoroughness may help him to a higher place among men than if he had been Dux every year at school.

No more touching compliment could be paid than that of the child who had overheard a conversation at the table on the qualities of a wife. As he stooped over to kiss his mother he remarked: "Mamma, when I get big I'm going to marry a lady just 'zactly like you." —N. Y. Herald.

A RAILROAD statistician who has been hard at work, states, as the result of his labors, that the capital invested in all the railways of the world is twenty billion dollars. The total mileage is reported as two hundred thousand in length. The locomotives of the world are numbered at sixty-six thousand, the passenger cars at one hundred and twenty thousand, and the freight cars one million five hundred thousand. If anyone doubts the accuracy of these figures, he is at liberty to make a new count.

It is understood the New Orleans grand jury will again indict all parties charged with frauds in the late election, the former being quashed, owing to an informality.

Flood Notes.

The tobacco barn belonging to Messrs. Young & Son, of Higginsport, O., which was carried off by the flood from that place, has been found about one mile from Vevay, Ind., and about one-third of a mile from the present stage of water in the river. The finder writes to Mr. Young that the barn is high and dry out in one of his fields, and still contains the heavy iron tobacco screw and several farming implements; but a buggy, which was in the house when it started on its long journey, had evidently been taken out en route as a large hole had been cut in the roof and the vehicle was missing. The barn is 60 by 40 feet, and Mr. Young is discussing the question of having it towed back.

The enormous losses caused by the floods are shown by the estimates made by the several cities and towns along the banks of the Ohio river. There were over 6,000 dwellings swept away or ruined beyond repair, and the pecuniary losses are estimated as follows:

Cincinnati and suburbs.....	$2,250,000
Louisville.....	1,000,000
Jeffersonville.....	925,000
Lawrenceburg.....	850,000
Madison.....	200,000
Aurora.....	150,000
New Albany.....	75,000
Other towns on the Ohio.....	2,250,000
On the Wabash.....	350,000
Total.....	$8,048,000

This does not include the losses from a suspension of business and trade, as the manufacturers located along the bank can not get to work for a month after the water subsides.

Uniontown's population is estimated at 1,500. It has been under water for 18 days, and the suffering among inhabitants is unprecedented. High ground, heretofore considered safe from the worst of floods, is submerged to the depth of several feet, and this was so unexpected that the loss of property has been extraordinary.

SCENES OF AWFUL DISSOLUTION AT SHAWNEETOWN AND OTHER RIVER POINTS.

SHAWNEETOWN, ILL., February 28.—The worst is over here, but in the town an awful scene of desolation is visible. Great gaps are left by houses swept away. In one addition four solid blocks of dwellings have entirely disappeared. The Presbyterian church floated away a mile. Several mills and business houses are entirely gone. The principal merchant in Blackburn, Ky., has a stock of $12,000 worth of dry goods on a barge, tied to a tree. The villages Blackburn and Raleigh, Ky., have both been nearly wiped out. Over one hundred houses in these places are gone. At Columbus, Ky., over ten feet of water is spread over the town and fills nearly all the stores.

NEWS BREVITIES.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce J. D. KEHOE as a candidate for re-election to the office of Representative for Mason County in the General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

ED. BULLETIN: Permit me briefly, through your columns, to return my sincere thanks to the many kind friends who have signed calls soliciting me to become a candidate for Representative of Mason County, and in response to said calls I announce myself a candidate, subject to the decision of the Democratic party in the primary election to be held March 10th, February 22, 1883. A. P. GOODING.

I hereby announce my candidacy for your Representative in the next Legislature. I am in favor of a return to the good old days of the whipping post, and shall make it my business, should I be elected, to see that the subject is brought prominently and squarely before that body. If there is any one thing, more than another, that should have the attention of our Representatives, it is some efficient punishment for petty stealing, &c. If something is not done at once there will not be enough chickens left in Kentucky to run a camp meeting, nor rails enough left to fence in a ten acre lot. I ask every one in favor of the whipping post to cast their vote for me, promising them that I will do all that can be done to get the bill through. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure,' one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Essexburgh Falls, Vermont. j7d.

And throw 'em in the bridge.
And thus upon our good old town,
There will be not a slur,
And all the world will plainly see,
There's nothing mean in her.

J. W. JAMISON, of Bourbon county, sold his crop of tobacco a few days ago to Mr. A. K. Marshall, for 11 cents all around.

The Carlisle Mercury says: Mr. W. R. Darnall, of Maysville, sent to Mr. F. E. Congleton a perfect ear of corn, on which each grain is done up in a perfect shuck by itself.

The following communication from a gentleman at Versailles, who advertised for a man to grow tobacco on his farm, shows the value of the BULLETIN as an advertising medium:

VERSAILLES, KY., February 28, 1883.
Ed. Bulletin: My advertisement in your valuable paper has been answered by not less than a dozen parties, and I have secured a man. Thanks. Send me a bill, and oblige,

Lecture.

Elder A. N. Gilbert, pastor of the Christian Church, of this city, by invitation of some of our leading citizens, has kindly consented to deliver a lecture at the Court House this evening for the benefit of the flood sufferers in this city and at Aberdeen. The subject of the lecture is "What shall we laugh at?" a theme that can not fail to be interesting. The charitable people of the city are invited to aid in this worthy movement. The lecture begins at half past seven o'clock.

Social Event.

The social event of the season was the marriage of Miss Mollie E. Watson to Mr. Thomas R. Robertson, on Thursday March 1, 1883, at the Christian Church, in Minerva, Mason county, Ky.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Joshua Watson, and is noted for her beauty, intelligence and sweet disposition. She was attired on this occasion in a beautiful myrtle green satin dress with diamond ornaments and never looked lovelier in her life.

The groom is a young man, who was born and raised in this county and is much esteemed by all who know him. Messrs. James Mannen, Gideon Winter, James Holton, and Ed. Robertson, acted as ushers.

Miss Sudie Jennings a most charming young lady and excellent musician presided at the organ and rendered Mendelssohn's grand Wedding March in a most effective and pleasing way.

The marriage took place at two o'clock, p. m., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Wm. W. Hall, in his usual happy and elegant style. The church was filled to overflowing with friends from far and near, showing the very high estimation in which both bride and groom are held. After the wedding a most sumptuous dinner was spread at the residence of the bride's parents. Space will not permit us to give the menu; suffice it to say there was an abundance of everything that any one could desire and dished up in the very best style known to the culinary art.

The presents were numerous and costly. We regret our inability to furnish a list with the names of the donors. The newly wedded couple left immediately for Augusta, where they took the Morning Mail for Cincinnati. We join with their many friends in wishing them a long life of peace and unalloyed happiness.

First Use of Anthracite Coal.

Anthracite coal was discovered in Pennsylvania, soon after the settlement of the Wyoming Valley, but its practical use was by Obediah Grose, in his blacksmith shop in the year 1768. In 1791 Philip Ginter discovered anthracite coal on the Lehigh.

In 1802 Robert Morris, of Philadelphia, formed a company and purchased 6,000 acres of the property on which Ginter discovered the coal. The coal company was called the Lehigh coal mine. This company opened the mine and found the vein to be 50 feet thick and of the very best quality of coal. The company made every effort to secure a demand for the coal, but without success, and having become thoroughly disgusted with their speculation leased the 6,000 acres of this mammoth coal to Messrs. White & Hazard, of Philadelphia, for twenty years, at an annual rental of one year of corn.

Messrs. White & Hazard tried to use the coal in the blast furnace in 1826, but failed; the furnace chilled. In 1832 Neilson conceived the idea of the hot blast for saving fuel, and in 1833 David Thomas adopted the idea of the hot blasts and anthracite. White and Hazard had, previous to this formed a company and bought the property. In 1839, Thomas made the use of anthracite for making pig metal, by which the twenty ears of corn were transferred into $20,000,000. And this is the early history of the great Lehigh coal mines of the present day. I remember well the banquet given by Burd Patterson and Nicholas Biddle, at Mount Carbon, in 1840, at which time they paid Wm. Lyman, proprietor of the Pioneer Furnace $5,000, the premium they had offered for the first successful use of anthracite coal as fuel in the blast furnace. But David Thomas was the lion of the day.

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL.

—The oldest Presbyterian Church in the world, the Wadensian, sends out more missionaries from her highland valleys than all her ministers at home.

—Three thousand five hundred churches have been built in this country during the past fifteen years, and more than one for every day in the year during the last twelve months.

—A candidate for a teacher's certificate in the recent examination at El Dorado, gave as a reason for the lengthened days of summer that they were expanded by the heat. Of course they contract in the winter. —Leavenworth Times.

—Rev. Miss Anna Oliver says that the ideal Christian woman is the salvation of the Church, and expresses the belief that if women lose faith in the Church and Christian religion in its general outlines the whole fabric of modern theology will fall apart.

—A Hindoo mother, after listening hour after hour to the lady missionary, as she explained the way of free salvation, exclaimed: "Tell me more." At last when the long talk must close the old mother drew from under her veil the thin, gray hairs, saying: "These hairs have grown white waiting for such words as these."

—The industrial schools are having an apparently good effect upon the Indians. The red men have begun to work well and to take a pride in their work. General Armstrong believes that within five years, with the 100 Indians at Hampton, Va., and the 300 at Carlisle, Pa., and others under instruction elsewhere, all the shoes and harness needed on the plains can be made by the young men at home. —Chicago Journal.

—Mr. Spurgeon, while in Scotland, recently preached in the grounds of Benmore. A temporary pulpit was erected on the lawn, and Mr. Spurgeon addressed an open-air congregation of nearly 5,000 people, who had come in from "all the country side," many persons having walked over ten miles expressly to be present, for the austere Puritans of this part of Scotland would regard driving on such an occasion as "Sabbath desecration" of the most heinous nature. —N. Y. Post.

A large pie manufacturer in New York says his firm's present rate of consumption of flour alone is 6,850 pounds daily, representing at a rough estimate 25,000 pies. The daily receipts are about $1,500. The firm employs 10 persons, and the weekly wages bill amounts to $2,400.

"To whom do you sell?" was asked. "To bakeries, restaurants, hotels, and latterly to a large number of private families. We keep sixty-six horses constantly going, and our constituency covers New York City, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Williamsburg, State Island, Mount Vernon and Bergen Point."

"Do you notice any periodical change in the public taste for pies?"

"Yes. At this season we are run on largely for mince pies, pumpkin and apple. The Saturday preceding Christmas we used ten tons of mince, and made it all ourselves. Into this mince we poured the contents of fifty casks of wine and one hundred barrels of brandy. You look surprised, but this is a fact."

"In addition to this we are now consuming daily six hogsheads of the best New Orleans sugar, six tierces of fire-dried lard, 330 pounds to the tierce. We do not use any steam-dried lard at all, as it loses its sweetness. Then we consume forty barrels of green apples, ten barrels of eggs and four of currants a day."

"In the fruit season our daily consumption averages one hundred barrels of huckleberries and forty crates of blackberries. You see that pile of cases there? Well, they contain ten thousand cases of apples, specially put up for our use, averaging twelve gallon cans in a case. These are for use in April, May and June."

"Does the pumpkin pie hold its own as formerly?"

"No. This good old 'institution,' as I may term it, seems to be going out of fashion. Pumpkin pie is now eaten mostly by elderly folks. Among the younger ones coconut and custard is taking its place. —Journal.
